FROM THE DESK of PRESIDENT CORDANO

Dear Friends,

Gallaudet continues to be on the move and increasing its impact and reach. The annual Honor Roll of Donors offers me a wonderful opportunity to express my gratitude to each and every donor who has given so generously over the past year to support our momentum.

We continue to strive to be a community where everyone feels they belong and where we create equitable experiences respecting the humanity of every member of our community. As a University, we are deepening our knowledge about the journey of our richly diverse and multicultural deaf community.

Since you received last year's Honor Roll of Donors, Gallaudet took a significant step to right a past injustice as the University conferred high school diplomas to 24 Black Deaf students who attended the segregated Kendall School Division II in the early 1950s. Before the graduation ceremony held on July 22, 2023, the students had never received their diplomas, instead they received "certificates" because they were Black. Gallaudet and the Board of Trustees gave a public apology for the grave injustice that was committed against those 24 students and we proclaimed July 22 as "Kendall 24 Day."

The story behind Kendall School Division II is of a mother who led the fight for educational justice for her Black Deaf son and for all Black Deaf children during segregation. This story is at the heart of our new fundraising campaign, the Necessity of Now (NOW). NOW will fund the redesign of the landscape in front of the Kellogg Conference Hotel to create outdoor learning spaces and an experiential journey in sharing the history, culture, and achievements of our Black Deaf community. This restorative and healing space will be dedicated as the Louise B. Miller Pathways and Gardens: A Legacy to Black Deaf Children. The NOW campaign also includes funding for programming and research at our Center for Black Deaf Studies and student scholarships. Visit gu.live/NOW to learn more and to make a gift.

Last fall, we launched Nuestra Casa, focused on Latine Deaf Studies, continuing our quest to keep expanding the reach of our knowledge and research to reveal the full tapestry of our deaf and signing communities. Our Schuchman Deaf Documentary Center also continues to share and develop stories about our community. The center's latest work focuses on the deaf community in New York City.

Our beacon, the Gallaudet Promise, Excellence in Learning and Discovery, our 10-year vision for creating a more sustainable and vibrant life experience for deaf, hard of hearing, and deaf blind people, is shining brightly. We have completed nearly 90% of our plans for Phase One, and are moving into Phase Two. Phase One concentrated on equity and inclusive excellence, our bilingual mission, academic reimagining, and forging new connections with our neighboring communities. As we enter into Phase Two, we will deepen our quest for excellence in learning and discovery by demonstrating academic excellence in bilingual teaching and learning, providing a top-notch student experience, assuring that all deaf people thrive throughout the lifespan, and taking care of our home and people both in our physical and digital campus environments. Learn more at gu.live/promise.

We look forward to continuing our partnership with you to grow Gallaudet's impact and success in the years ahead.

Gratefully yours,

GALLAUDET LAUNCHES NECESSITY OF NOW FUNDRAISING CAMPAIGN

Gallaudet University officially launched its Necessity of Now (NOW) fundraising campaign during Homecoming in October 2023. NOW spotlights the history, culture, and achievements of Black Deaf people who continue to face barriers with educational success and employment opportunities.

The campaign supports educational equity and inclusion by funding an outdoor equitable learning space called the Louise B. Miller Pathways and Gardens: A Legacy to Black Deaf Children, student scholarships, and programming and research at the university's Center for Black Deaf Studies (CBDS).

The fundraising goal is $23 million, with $13 million designated for the Pathways and Gardens, and $10 million for student scholarships and CBDS. As of the end of 2023, $8.2 million has been raised.

"We need to let the world know about Louise B. Miller and her fight for Black Deaf education. She is a 'shero' we need to recognize," said Evon J. Black, '87 & G-'96, co-director of CBDS.

NOW honors the enduring impact of Mrs. Miller, who fought for educational justice for Black Deaf children during segregation. In the 1940s, Mrs. Miller's eldest son, Kenneth, was denied entry into Kendall School, their local school for the Deaf on Gallaudet's campus, because he was Black. At that time, Black Deaf children in Washington, D.C., were forced to attend school far away from home, in places such as Baltimore or Philadelphia.

For six long years, Mrs. Miller did everything in her power to give Kenneth the education he deserved close to home. Her efforts began with letters and meetings and culminated in two lawsuits filed with fellow parents of Black Deaf children against the District of Columbia Board of Education. The second lawsuit was successful on July 3, 1952 and the ruling meant that Black Deaf children in D.C. had the right to be educated within the District. Shortly afterward, segregated classrooms were set up for Black Deaf students in the Peikoff Alumni House ("Ole Jim") until a separate school building for Black Deaf students could be built. In late September 1952, the Kendall School Division II for Negroes was built next door, separate from the Kendall School which served white Deaf children.

Even though Kenneth and other Black Deaf children now had a local school to attend, the students had fewer resources than the white Deaf students and the school building itself was inferior. Mrs. Miller continued to advocate on behalf of her son and his fellow students when she discovered these inequities.

Two years after Kendall School Division II opened, the Supreme Court ruled in Brown v. Board of Education of Topeka that school segregation was illegal. Mrs. Miller's lawsuit was an important precursor to that monumental decision.

"We are standing on the shoulders of Mrs. Miller and the students from Kendall School Division II," said Black. "The world needs to know that Black Deaf people have contributed to the larger landscape of civil rights in America. We are creating new narratives that recognize our contributions and advancements. We are moving from sorrow to beauty, from grief and pain to resilience."

The campaign is led by the university's first Executive Director of Institutional Advancement who is Deaf, Nicholas Kiego, '09, and a Deaf-led fundraising team.

"This campaign is inspired by a mother's love," Kiego said. "The outdoor learning space recognizes the Black Deaf experience, and it is going to be a large and beautiful space that will be established in the area in front of the Kellogg Conference Hotel and behind Peikoff Alumni House (Ole Jim)."

Gifts and pledges of $5,000 and above that are paid off by December 2025 will be matched dollar for dollar thanks to a $2 million matching fund given by an anonymous alumni donor. Matching donors and those who give $10,000 or more to NOW will have their name forever memorialized on the donor wall within the Louise B. Miller Pathways and Gardens.

EXPANDING ACCESS TO MENTAL HEALTHCARE IN MEMORY OF CHRISTOPHER J. VAN SCOTT

Just as his dry wit, compassion, and positive attitude are remembered, so too is Christopher “Chris” J. Van Scott’s dedication to those he served as a psychologist at Gallaudet University’s Mental Health Center, now known as Counseling and Psychological Services.

Chris’ legacy lives on more than 25 years after his death through the many people who have benefited from mental health services supported by endowed funds that were established in his honor.

“Chris was deeply involved in teaching students and working with trainees and served as a role model to many students who still work in psychology and Deaf-related fields,” said Lauri Rush, Psy.D., director of CAPS. “He valued teaching and service in his life and had a lasting and profound impact on the Gallaudet community.”

After his death, Chris’ family set up two endowed funds in his memory: The Christopher J. Van Scott Fund for Mental Health, which provides support for CAPS operations, programs, and activities, and the Christopher J. Van Scott Research Project Fund which enhances research, training, and practice in the field of mental health. The goal of both funds is to improve mental health services to Deaf and hard of hearing people both on and off campus.

“When Chris passed away we wanted to memorialize him in the most meaningful way possible and could think of nothing more fitting than to set up the endowed funds at Gallaudet,” said Chris’ brother David and his wife, Julie.

“We were certain the funds would be put to the best possible use to ensure ongoing educational assistance for the students at Gallaudet and over time, this has, in fact, been the case. We know Chris would be so pleased.”

Chris’ family, which includes his father, Dr. Eugene Van Scott, and brothers, Stephen and David, and their spouses, continue to donate to the endowed funds to commemorate Chris’ life’s work. Chris’ mother passed away in 2012. Dr. Van Scott is part of Gallaudet’s Abraham Lincoln Legacy Society and University Society. Both Stephen and David and their spouses are also members of the University Society.

Over the years, CAPS has used the endowed funds for a variety of programs and projects improving professional services for Deaf and hard of hearing people. Each year for the past two decades CAPS has trained medical students at Howard University and The George Washington University on how to provide culturally-competent medical and psychiatric services for Deaf and hard of hearing people. The training was also provided at Gallaudet for students, faculty, and staff in mental health fields.

An area that CAPS is currently focused on is supporting professionals working with diverse and underserved members of the Deaf and hard of hearing community and priority is given to students working with them as well. CAPS is using funds from the endowment to help students with training and preparation to get the licenses they need in order to work with this population.

With funding from the Christopher J. Van Scott Research Project Fund, a second-year student in the Master of Social Work program recently received a scholarship which is helping support her financially as she earns her degree.

“I can completely focus on my education and become a wonderful social worker post-graduation,” she said. “When licensed, I am looking forward to working within Deaf/hard of hearing and BIPOC communities, working to do counseling and psychoeducation within schools. I am very excited to give back to the community and do work that helps others, because this is the type of work that truly fulfills me.”

A COMMITMENT TO COMMUNICATION AND EDUCATIONAL ACCESS

Miriam Zadek's connection to Gallaudet runs deep. Though she is hearing, many of her extended family is Deaf, and 23 members of her family and their spouses have graduated from Gallaudet, including her nephew, Board of Trustees Trustee Emeritus Dr. Philip W. Bravin, '66, H-'14. Zadek grew up as the middle of two Deaf sisters and her father was hard of hearing. Additionally, Zadek attended Gallaudet, participating in a program for those guiding hard of hearing individuals through group support sessions, and initiated such group sessions at The Hearing and Speech Agency (HASA).

As Zadek recalled in her 2022 memoir Miriam Hearing Sister published by Gallaudet University Press: "As I grew up, I had many monikers. All were derived from my given name, Miriam, but the one that stuck longest was given to me by my sisters and their deaf friends. They voiced it and they said it in sign: 'Miriam Hearing Sister.'"

Beyond her family, being involved in the Deaf community continued with her chosen career as a clinical social worker. With a master's degree from Columbia University School of Social Work, Zadek was the first social worker at a children's hospital in Baltimore and the first social worker on a federal grant at HASA. Throughout her long career, she was always interested in working on issues regarding communication, and often worked with Deaf children and their families. Zadek spent nearly 20 years with HASA. There, she developed a model of social work counseling for parents and families seeking communication access resources. Zadek received the Maryland Governor's Service Lifetime Achievement Award in recognition for her over 40 years of service to individuals and families facing communication challenges.

As a published author, Zadek regularly presents to book clubs and other groups about her life experiences. She said it is important for her as a member of a family with many Deaf people. It demonstrates to others that Deaf people can do anything.

"People who do not know Deaf individuals, their accomplishments, their goals, their professions, their education, do not see beyond it," she explained. "There is a necessity to educate people that Deaf people are accomplished, they are complete, they are successful, they have needs, and they are the same as everyone else."

Zadek and her husband, Dr. Robert Zadek, and her entire extended family believe strongly in the importance of giving back to the educational institutions that helped propel their careers and lives. The Zadeks are in many of Gallaudet's giving groups: Abraham Lincoln Legacy Society, Benefactor Society, and President's Circle, Diamond Level. The Zadeks also funded the Miriam Zadek & Dr. Robert Zadek President's Fund to support the President's initiatives in furthering the aims and goals of Gallaudet. The funds will be used for research, goal-setting, activities, and steps taken by the President towards vision-setting or future planning for the University.

"You give to institutions which have supported you in your educational goals. You have an opportunity to expand their reach to others and you have an obligation to give a thank you and recognition of what they gave to you," she explained. "When I looked at the number of my family members who have received their educational accomplishments at Gallaudet University, it simply fits with our concept that you support those institutions."

RETIRED FACULTY MEMBERS ESTABLISH SCHOLARSHIP FUND FOR MSW STUDENTS

Dr. Barbara J. White, '76, and Dr. Bruce A. White have endowed a scholarship fund in their names to support students in the Gallaudet University Social Work program. This scholarship will be offered for the first time during the 2024-2025 academic year.

"As an undergraduate student when the social work program was first established in the 1970s, and later as a faculty member in the Social Work department when the Master of Social Work (MSW) program was established in the late 1980s, it has been gratifying to witness the tremendous growth of the field of social work with Deaf and hard of hearing people," said Dr. Barbara White. "We hope the fund will help increase the number of professional MSW level social workers who are Deaf, DeafBlind, or hard of hearing to meet the growing demand for social workers with the knowledge and skills in working with the Deaf population at all system levels."

Dr. Barbara White started her career as a clinical social worker at Family Service Foundation in Maryland and was a faculty member in the Department of Social Work at Gallaudet University for 31 years. She retired in 2014. She taught both undergraduate and graduate students, was department chair, and served on a member of faculty governance committees. She also served on various community boards serving Deaf and hard of hearing communities. Her career interests encompassed mental health, adoption in Deaf families, macro and international social work, disaster relief, and advocacy for accessible social and mental health services to Deaf and hard of hearing people.

Barbara White led student study abroad courses to Guatemala and Costa Rica, and was part of the disaster mental health response team during Hurricane Katrina in 2005. She has received numerous awards for her teaching and service. In retirement, she continues to volunteer in different capacities, and serves on the Patient Family Advisory Council of Beebe Healthcare. Most recently, she chaired the Delaware Deaf Fest.

Dr. Bruce White taught English at Gallaudet from 1978 to 2008. He served on many university committees and was vice chair of the University Faculty for two terms. He also served twice as chair of the English department, including during the time it had 40 members teaching approximately 1,000 students per semester. He participated in the 1988 DPN movement and the 2006 Unity for Gallaudet protests.

Bruce White attended public schools in Massachusetts long before support services for deaf and hard of hearing students existed. He took sign language classes at the Learning Center for the Deaf and became that school's first student teacher after earning an M.Ed. degree. He then taught Deaf students for several years at the new Keefe Vocational Technical High School before becoming one of the first hires at DEAF, Inc. After completing a master's degree in English, he accepted a position at Gallaudet. His publications were mostly on American and Victorian literature, and his Ph.D. dissertation on Elbert Hubbard's writings was published in 1989 and reprinted as a paperback in 2018. An active volunteer, Bruce has served in elected local offices in Massachusetts, Maryland, and Delaware.

The Whites are loyal and generous donors to Gallaudet and are in the Abraham Lincoln Legacy Society, Benefactor Society, Buff and Blue Loyalty Club, and the Diamond Level of the President's Circle.

A GRATEFUL DAY OF GIVING

Gallaudet participated in GivingTuesday, the annual global day of giving, on November 28, 2023 and more than $22,000 was raised for the University. More than half of the donations went to the Necessity of Now (NOW) campaign.

NOW will fund the creation of an equitable outdoor learning space on Gallaudet's campus called the Louise B. Miller Pathways and Gardens: A Legacy to Black Deaf Children as well as student scholarships, research, and programming at our Center for Black Deaf Studies. Learn more at gu.live/NOW.

Institutional Advancement staff hosted three GivingTuesday stations on campus during the day with NOW information and swag. Athletics held an intramural event in the evening which featured another GivingTuesday station.

Gallaudet's Student Body Government and Graduate Student Association gave generously to the NOW campaign. SBG gave $5,000 and GSA gave $3,000. SBG's donation reaches the matching gift threshold and their name will be listed on the donor recognition wall in the forthcoming Pathways and Gardens, along with all other matching donors.

All NOW gifts and pledges of $5,000 and above that are paid off by December 2025 will be matched dollar for dollar by an anonymous alumni donor.

"We all agreed that it was crucial that undergraduate students partake in the campaign to endorse positive change happening on our campus and to the community," said SBG President Cynthia Ortega. "SBG believes that this campaign is important for Gallaudet because we all should strive for changes that have significant potential in making our Gallaudet campus more inclusive to the student body. This is also a great way for SBG to be included in a fight for equality and inclusion."

GSA President Dacey Curtis hopes their donation will inspire other students and student groups to give to NOW.

"Even small contributions matter a lot, and now is the time to make positive changes," said Dacey. "GSA thinks this campaign is really important for Gallaudet because it deals with urgent needs and helps make the whole community better. They understand that when everyone comes together to support it, they can create a positive and meaningful environment. This ensures that Gallaudet keeps doing well and meets the changing needs of students and the broader community, providing the necessary support for everyone."

AN APPRECIATION OF DOROTHY CASTERLINE

Dorothy “Dot” Chiyoko Sueoka Casterline, ’58 & H-’22, may have been known as a quiet observer who eschewed praise and attention, but her brilliance and work in codifying American Sign Language was revolutionary.

Along with the late Carl Croneberg, ’55, and noted linguist and Gallaudet English professor Dr. William C. Stokoe, H-’88, Casterline conducted much of the painstaking field research that led to the formal recognition of American Sign Language in the late 1950s and early 1960s. She and Croneberg were awarded honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degrees during Gallaudet’s 152nd Commencement in May 2022.

After graduating from high school, Casterline worked for three years, then enrolled at Gallaudet College, where she completed the requirements for her bachelor’s degree in English in just three years. She was the first Native Hawai’ian student to receive a Gallaudet degree. As a student, she wrote for The Buff and Blue newspaper and was a member of the Delta Epsilon Sorority. During her senior year, she was the first and only student to be elected to the new, faculty-organized Phi Alpha Pi Honor Society established on campus the previous year.

While a senior at Gallaudet, Stokoe recruited her to collaborate with him in the first scientific study of Deaf people using sign language. Stokoe valued her sharp eye for detail, which made her indispensable in transcribing signs. Little did Casterline know at the time that she was taking part in a study that would eventually lead to nothing short of a renaissance in the history of the Deaf community – the universal recognition that sign languages are true, natural, structured languages, not merely gestures, as most linguists believed up until this revolutionary study.

After Casterline graduated, she joined the faculty of Gallaudet’s Department of English. She balanced her workload between teaching and working with Gallaudet’s new, grant-funded Linguistics Research Laboratory. The result was the landmark 1965 publication, A Dictionary of American Sign Language on Linguistic Principles, compiled by Stokoe, Casterline, and Croneberg.

Another significant outgrowth of their efforts was the 1971 transformation of Gallaudet’s Linguistic Research Laboratory into an autonomous research facility. This, in turn, was the genesis of the world-renowned Department of Linguistics that was founded a decade later, training students to carry forward the mantle of sign language research.

Casterline passed away on August 8, 2023 at 95 years old.

In 2023, she was a Gold Level Plus donor in the President’s Circle.

A new endowed scholarship fund was created to honor the work of Casterline, Stokoe, and Croneberg. The Stokoe, Croneberg, and Casterline Linguistics Fund supports international students from underrepresented countries who wish to study sign language, particularly their own sign language. Preference will be given to international graduate students majoring in linguistics.
