Don't stop, Thinking about tomorrow Don't stop, It'll soon be here, It'll be better than before Yesterday's gone. Yesterday's gone. All I want is to see you smile If it takes just a little while I know you don't believe That it's true, I never meant any harm to you Don't stop Thinking about tomorrow Don't stop, It'll soon be here It'll be better than before . . . Homecoming Is Highlighted by Winning HOMECOMING '83 was a resounding success as reunions go, and football games, too. The high-flying Eagles welcomed MSD's Orioles into their aerie and then pushed them out 32 to 6. Another bit of excitement for the Old Grads was the soccer game against Pallotti, although this time the visitors prevailed, 3-1. Reigning over the festivities were King Randy Sugiyama and Queen Tressy Kimble and their court. Events were crowned by a dreamy dance with a live band enlivening things until the wee hours.

ACTIVITIES AND ORGANIZATIONS

College Fair

Set up by Chris Bounds-Pearson and Gary Hotto, MSSD held a College Fair in the Learning Resources Center. Representatives from twenty-one post-graduate programs came to inform the Seniors and Juniors about their programs, and the necessary steps for enrollment. For many of the Seniors, now that their graduation is imminent, it was like dropping a little kid in a candy shop! They had many pertinent questions to ask.

I think that might be possible!

If I sign here will I get all the info?

This stuff looks pretty good!

Sure, our college serves good food!

Yes, it will be challenging!

Calif., here we come?

Close Up

The budding politicos of MSSD had a great year learning firsthand about the mechanics of government, while staying in a downtown hostelry. The week of March 18-25 found Janice Strickland shepherding her brood through the halls of bureaucratic Washington. Adding enjoyment were challenging exchanges with students from many other schools for the deaf and hearing high schools from all over the nation.

Senior Leadership Program

The Senior Leadership Program is off and running in its third successful year as it trains the young leaders on campus in such important areas as proper planning and interpersonal relations.

The young people who are fortunate enough to be chosen for this elite group ride herd on the students living in their dormitories. They not only assist the Resident Advisors, but are responsible for the development of a number of recreational programs. For this, and other work as role models and peer leaders the SLPers have their own apartments and have the luxury of living with a more relaxed rules regimen.

The current guru for these hard-working students is Fern Reisinger, assisted by Sherry Duhon.

The Junior National Association of the Deaf is patterned after the parent National Association of the Deaf and seeks to instill in the young members an awareness of the need for leadership and activism on the community level.

The local chapter was busy most of the year raising funds to send a delegation to the National Convention, which will be held on the campus of the Florida School for the Deaf this year.

International Thespian Society

The Thespians had an exciting year, with their first-ever One-Act Play Festival in the fall. Many schools expressed an interest, and two were brave enough to take part in the Festival. Students from the West Virginia School for the Deaf presented selections from "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," and students from a hearing high school, Bethesda-Chevy Chase staged "David and Lisa," with interpreters. MSSD did "Cinder-Riley" and "Goodbye to the Clown," with guest directors for both shows.

To join the Thespians a drama enthusiast must participate in two or more areas, helping put on a play, such as: acting, directing, technical support, etc.

Current officers for the Thespians are: Pres. Tressy Kimble, VP William Bird, Sec'y. Angela Maxey, Treas. Allison Gompf. Advisors: Cindy Rohr-Redding, Phyllis Rugg.

Student Body Government Officers

A mid-year change of officers had the Student Body Government spinning its wheels for a short time, but by the middle of the year things were well under control and rolling smoothly and important committees such as Food and Faculty-Staff Concerns were working towards concrete goals.

The officers and a committee that dovetailed with one from the Senior Class produced an exciting Homecoming Extravaganza and an enthralling Senior Prom.

Officers currently are: President, John Riordan; Vice President, Matthew Monett; Secretary, Terrylene Theriot; Treasurer, Danny Froehle. Advisors: Jeff Dichter and Richard Lytle.

An extremely valuable service is performed by the Educational Disorders Program. It provides training activities for coping with handicaps other than deafness, and also is a center for information. Special equipment and environment modification help some of MSSD's students participate fully in the course offerings.

Dear Guys:

I want to say a big THANK YOU for taking part and doing the hard work which has made our year-book look so fantastic this year.

You guys have proven to me that you are capable of taking great responsibility, and being very creative, and cooperative. This made our work on the yearbook a lot easier for all of us. I am very proud of you and it gave me great pleasure working with you, too. I hope all of you will come back as yearbook staff again next year.

For some of you, who are seniors, I wish you the best. You know you have a bright future waiting for you, so grab it before the rainbow disappears before your eyes. I will miss all of you. Take care of yourself.

To our advisors, Sandy Hyatt and Eric Malzkuhn, I want to say thank you for your supportive attitude and encouraging us with a lot of patience despite the ups and downs in our daily lives. I am looking forward to working with you again next year, too.

I want to say that you are all wonderful people.

Memories of Graduation 1983

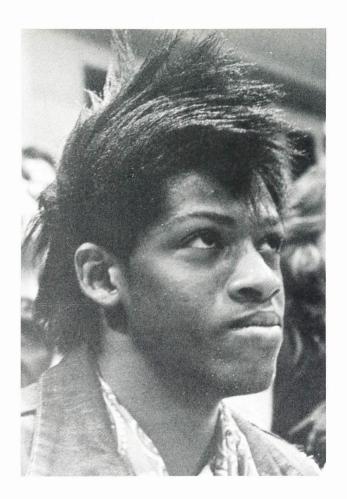

STUDENT LIFE

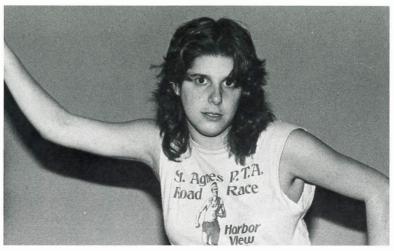

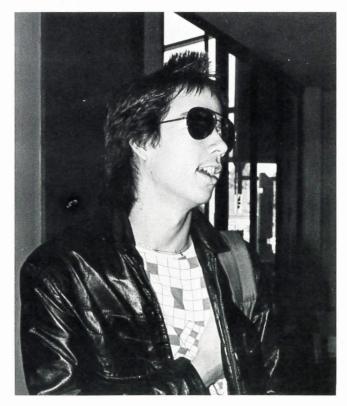

Trends of the '60's Punks Appear at MSSD in the '80's.

Witches flew by on broomsticks, scattering screeching goblins to the four corners of the studio as MSSD's mischievous teenagers brought a score of monsters to life, celebrating Halloween with all the trimmings. Several days of frenzied preparation were involved as each new idea necessitated checking out Home Ec., and Performing Arts for inspiration, costumery and makeup. Games and fun kept the revelers lively until the witching hour.
